

Joseph J. Albanese Inc. Names Michael Pacheco Chief Technology Officer

SANTA CLARA, Calif., June 20, 2023 — Joseph J. Albanese Inc., a leading concrete and construction contractor, today announced that it has appointed Michael Pacheco to the position of Chief Technology Officer. Promoted from within, Pacheco was previously the company's Director of Information Technology.

"We are pleased to announce the appointment of Michael Pacheco to Chief Technology Officer," said Phillip J. Albanese, CEO of Joseph J. Albanese Inc. "In his new role, Michael will deliver technology-based business transformation solutions to elevate our services and drive exceptional results for our valued clients."

With more than 25 years of IT and technology industry experience, Pacheco is a recognized leader in implementing and executing major transformational IT initiatives. He has a proven track record for delivering technology solutions that result in customer service excellence. As a seasoned, results-driven IT leader, he has global experience in business transformation and operations across a range of industries.

In his previous position as the company's Director of Information Technology, he championed a variety of technology initiatives, including business continuity, cybersecurity and risk management strategies. In his new role, he will focus on building and delivering IT strategies that are aligned with business goals to deliver a positive impact to the bottom line.

Pacheco holds a degree in Management Information Systems & Administration from the Masters Institute of Technology.

“Founded in 1955, Joseph J. Albanese Inc. has prided itself on staying on the forefront of technology. From acquiring curb-and-gutter machines in the early 1980s to adopting virtual construction in the mid-2000s, we are determined to utilize technology to deliver the very best concrete-related capabilities, all while getting it done safely,” Albanese added.
